

Introductory Video

Introductory Video

Duration: 2:57

Video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=g0jhMsXaL6Q>

Course Coordinator - Dr Maninder Singh, Professor and Dean, Academic Affairs, Thapar University, Patiala

Auto-generated YouTube transcript for personal study. Spoken wording belongs to the original lecture. Follow the video link above; this file is not an official CEC/SWAYAM publication.

from the anatomy of information security threats to the comprehensive knowledge of cyber bar fa information security pervades each and every environment today from an individual to Enterprise existence of security loopholes in organization provide an easy breakthrough to the Cyber criminals to take advantage of these loopholes and exploit the vulnerability hello viewers to get started with this course on information security we want to give you a big picture of security issues starting from fundamentals securely surface the web how to recognize fake websites by virtue of authoritative DNS replies as well as by verifying digital signature in case of https protocol Hands-On DNS poisoning is demonstrated and root cause of security threats gets assed throughout the course you shall learn that main root cause of all information security threats is poor programming from generation to Generations more prevalent today we have been following control C control V approach which should be discouraged client side attack proof of concept is also demonstrated which is very critical attack Vector as securing single asset from Attack is easy but if client himself or herself wishes to approach a malicious website we hardly have any solution through series of proof of Concepts you should be able to deploy counter measures against these attacks and fundamentally start practicing secure coding which is ultimately the goal of this course in this 8 we short-term course of two credits on information security we'll try to critically understand what are different paradigms of information and network security issues related to operating system security and database security issues related to DNS poisoning have an in-depth knowledge of DNS replies specifically authoritative answers and develop competencies for dealing with the client side attacks information security is the need of the r in order to maintain and keep the hygiene of the world the faster we understand it the better it would be so let's get started